"FEAST OF LIGHTS" TO BE SUNDAY JANUARY 6TH.

The public is invited to attend the Feast of Lights which will be presented by the House of Young Churchmen of Christ Episcopal Church Sunday, January 6, at 6:00 o'clock in the evening.

"Through the ages Light has been the Symbol of Progress and Truth, the Feast of Lights, depicting the spread of Christian Truth had its origin in the Eastern Church very early, even antedating the observance of Christmas by the Western Church. The Feast of the Epiphany inaugurates the great missionary season of the Church. Today many young people feel a deep sense of the importance of the historic continuity of the Church, the Universality of Christ and the beauty and glory of the Christian message as reflected in the symbol of light."

The Fund Raising Campaign for the March of Dimes officially opened through the entire United States January 2 and will continue through the month of January.

Mrs. Theo Tudury, Hancock County Fund Chairman announced 4500 letters have been mailed throughout the county. It is hoped that all persons receiving these letters will realize the marvelous work which has been done by the Polio Foundation, and contribute even if only one dime, to the only campaign which is given to provide financial aid for the continuance of work whereby the dread poliomyelitis can become a thing of the past and the fearful crippling of children and adults abolished from American life.

Salk vaccine has been made available through the Foundation. This marvelous vaccine has saved thousands of lives and is a proven fact of effectiveness.

Give heed to the call for a Dime. Polio is a stalker which strikes the young and the aged, the rich and the poor. Treatment and prevention are the same for persons in any walk of life.

Make your contributions, be it only one dime. When letters are received from the county chairman, enclose contributions and mail immediately to Mrs. Theo Tudury, 321 Main St. Bay St. Louis.

RED CROSS APPEALS FOR FUNDS FOR HUNGARIAN RELIEF

Hancock County citizens are asked by the local Red Cross chapter this week to make a special effort to aid the plight of the thousands of unfortunate Hungarian refugees.

"We don't know them. They don't know us. We don't know exactly where they are. Budapest maybe, or somewhere in Austria, or Camp Killmer, U. S. A. But, wherever they are, they are depending on you and your Red Cross chapter whether in Budapest or on their way to one of the two refugee camps being operated by the American Red Cross in Austria, or maybe that's all behind them and they're at Camp Killmer, on the final step to a new and fuller life in a free United States of America."

The Hancock County chapter's quota is $250. A donation of $25.00 by Junior Red Crossers brought the total this week to $150.00. When our part helps to make up the national quota of $5,000,000 it will represent a sacrifice of three cents per person, if everyone gives.

These suffering people are depending on us. Are we letting them down?

PAYS VISIT TO ST. AUGUSTINE'S SEMINARY HERE

His Excellency William van Bekkum, S. V. D., representative of missionary orders of the first international liturgical conference held last September in Assisi, Italy, recently paid a visit to "Saint Augustine's" Divine Word Seminary, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

After a banquet in his honor His Excellency who is Vicar Apostolic of Runteng, Indonesia, outlined in careful detail what the feelings of the liturgists of all countries were as presented at the conference in Assisi.

Bishop van Bekkum commented that the desires of the liturgists of every country were the same and activated by the same motives. The most common wish of the liturgists was that the faithful be enabled to take a more active celebration in the ecclesiastical services.

Prompted by the mentioned motive, the liturgists were urged to make the following proposals: the use of the vernacular in at least the catechetical parts of the Mass, the use of vernacular chant at High Masses, restoration of minor orders and the first two major orders of the laity. His Excellency himself proposed that the church once again have laymen ordained to the orders so that they may perform some services in the absence of Priests and that the laity be more active in the performance of these services. A few duties the ordained laymen could perform would be leading of devotional prayers; giving of sermons and distribution of Holy Communion when the person would be a deacon.

His excellency is currently in the States in order to interest liturgists of this country to promote these desires presented at Assisi, Italy.

Bishop van Bekkum will return to his vicariate in Indonesia after he has finished his work here in the United States.

MEC EXPANSION

Reasons for the Mississippi MEC expansion are many. The MEC believes a modern county magistrate system should replace the present system of justices of the peace courts in the state. The MEC is an educational program favoring the magistrate court system, and is seeking an amendment to the constitution so such a system can be instituted.

The MEC traces the history of JP courts from medieval times, and tells how the system was brought to the American colonies by the early English settlers. Turning to apparent defects in the present system, the MEC points out that qualifications for the office are not high enough to fill today's needs in meeting out maximum justice at the neighborhood level.

On problems such as what evidence may be offered in a suit, most justices must go on guesswork or rely on advice of competing lawyers who have a vested interest in the outcome, the MEC states, adding that most JPs do not have legal training. "Instructions to the jury are often left first to the lawyers in the case. This way leaves open the possibility of frequent miscarriages of justice."

The MEC also states that due to the weakness of the system there has been "a gradual breakdown of respect for the justice of the peace courts."

"This may be unjustified in many instances, especially where justices are sincerely trying to do a good job. Nevertheless, it is a fact that the practice of holding court in garages and other commercial establishments surrounding such courts, does not lend dignity and respect to the part of the state's judicial system most often used by the people."

The publication then calls for modern magistrate court system.

It was a busy year for Southern Bell employees, working to expand and improve telephone service for growing Mississippi communities. New Telephone buildings, like the one under construction shown here, were completed in several communities. And, throughout the state, there were similar scenes of telsplicing vital telephone lines in countless manholes.

Livestock Running At Large On Miss. Roads to be Impounded

Livestock running at large on paved Mississippi highways and adjacent right-of-ways will be impounded.

In a letter to State Highway Patrolmen and county officers Commissioner of Public Safety Tom Scarborough this week called for enforcement of Senate Bill Number 1774, the Act passed in the 56th legislature making it "unlawful for any livestock to run at large upon the federal or state-designated paved highways or highway right-of-ways of this state."

The office of the Commissioner of Public Safety and the county sheriffs have been charged with the enforcement of the Act.

The Act provides that cattle taken up on or along paved state or federal highways be impounded in an enclosure provided by the boards of supervisors. If the stock is not redeemed within five days by the owner the sheriff is authorized to offer the animals for sale.

A $250 assessment will be placed against each animal impounded. Of this sum, $100 will be forwarded to the State Treasurer; the additional $150 will be deposited in the general county fund.

An additional assessment of $1 per head per day will be placed against the impounded animal for care and feeding. This assessment also goes into the general county fund.

If the impounded animals are not redeemed within five days provisions of the Act instruct the sheriff to advertise the stock for public sale. The notice of sale must be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the county involved, and the sale held not less than five days nor more than 12 days (excluding Sundays and holidays) from the first publication of the notice of sale.

Enforcement of the state stock law is expected to bring a disappearance of stray cattle along Mississippi highways.

Commissioner Scarborough has stressed that the hazards caused by straying cattle is "proportional" to that of speeding. Mississippi annually pays a high annual toll in farm animal automobile accidents.

Provisions of the new stock law places the burden of liability on the animal owner. Section 2 of the Act states:

"The owners of livestock which through their owner's negligence are found on federal or state-designated paved highways or highway right-of-ways shall be subject to any damage as a result of wrecks, loss of life or bodily injury as a result of said livestock being on the above designated highways. The burden shall be on the owner of any such livestock to prove lack of negligence."

Provisions of the Act became effective October 5, 1956 and are applicable to all counties which have previously voted out the state-wide stock law. These counties, mostly in South Mississippi have until June 30, 1957 to complete fencing of all federal and state designated highways within their boundaries.

Commissioner Scarborough has instructed Highway Patrolmen to make a strong effort to rid our highways of this road hazard, men were authorized to purchase liability ropes and instructed to contact their boards of supervisors immediately with reference of pens.

years of active duty a young man will serve three additional years in the Ready Reserve followed by one year in the Standby Reserve.
The Third Army Recruiting District said that in the Ready Reserve, a member attends prescribed military classes once each week for a minimum of 15 drills a year. In the summer months he would also receive a minimum of 17 days active duty training.
Colonel Orcutt pointed out that the Reserve receives a day's base pay, in line with his grade, for the weekly drill. The active duty training entitles the Reservist to full pay and allowances for the full time he is on duty.

During the one year in the Standby Reserve, a member remains in an inactive status.

Colonel Orcutt, who heads U.
S. Army Recruiting activities of the Third Army in Georgia, Florida, Alabama, North Carolina and South Carolina, Tennessee and Mississippi, pointed out that the six year Reserve plan offers an excellent chance for youths to fulfill their military obligation with a minimum of Reserve service time after the two years active duty.

Other advantages were cited in the announcement of the new program. An applicant may be granted up to 120 days deferment upon enlistment, before receiving orders to active duty. This would provide time to close out personal affairs prior to reporting for duty. Also, volunteers who have had Junior or Senior ROTC instruction prior to enlistment may be accepted in a grade higher than Private.

Young men are advised to contact the nearest Third Army recruiting representative of the U. S. Army Recruiting Service for complete details of the six year Reserve enlistment.

Rate Increase

The Mississippi Public Service

Commission, in an 82-page Opinion and Order, this week denied in its entirety the $2,500,000 permanent rate increase sought by Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company in an application filed on June 25, 1956. Although the higher rates were put into effect temporarily under bond on July 20, 1956, pursuant to the law which was enacted by the State Legislature this year, the Company has now been ordered to reinstate "forthwith" the previous rates and charges which were in effect prior to July 20, 1956. The Company has also been ordered to refund by check "with all dispatch" the excess amount collected under the temporary rates since July 20, 1956, with interest at 6% per annum. These excess amounts are to include the excess Federal excise taxes which the subscribers were required to pay under the higher rates.

It is estimated that the total amount of the refund to the telephone subscribers will approximate $1,500,000 as of the date of the Commission's order. The Commission held that Southern Bell "has clearly failed to meet the burden of proof to show that, in the light of well-established principles of rate making, the intrastate rates and charges which prevailed in Mississippi prior to July 20, 1956, are 'unjust, unreasonable, or confiscatory'."

According to the Opinion and Order, Southern Bell appears to have relied heavily on its estimate of $72,000,000 as the alleged reasonable value of the Company's property in Mississippi upon which it was basing its claim for the rate increase of $2,500,000. This estimate was predicted on the existing cost of reproducing the existing property, including a substantial portion of obsolete and outmoded plant and equipment much of which is no longer being manufactured. The Commission held that such evidence is "conjectural, speculative, unrealistic and unreliable." Instead, the Commission found that the reason for the rate increase was the telephone subscribers' long-term debt is much cheaper than common stock capital and the interest thereon is deductible for Federal income tax purposes, but the common stock dividends of 6.5% which Southern Bell has been paying to its present holding company cannot be deducted for income tax purposes.

The hearings in this case commenced on August 21, 1956, and were concluded on November 20, 1956. The voluminous record comprises over 100 exhibits of a highly technical character, and over 3,300 pages of testimony.

MRS. HENRY BYRNE LOGAN

Claiming attention on the Gulf Coast was the beautiful wedding Saturday, December 29, when Miss Marlene Egloff daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Egloff became the bride of Henry Byrne Logan, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Logan, Sr., of Pass Christian.

The ceremony took place in our Lady of the Gulf Church Bay St. Louis, at nine o'clock. Nuptial Mass with Right Rev. Msgr. Michael McCarthy officiating at the double ring service.

The large church was handsomely adorned with white gladioli and chrysanthemums arranged in tall baskets placed at the pews. Told palms and white blooms were used in the chancel and gold vases placed on the altar held white gladioli.

The bride was radiant as she was led down the aisle by her father who gave her in marriage. Her gown was an exquisite creation of delustered satin and chintilly lace. The extremely billowing skirt was of satin with the lower edge of lace set into an applique, and which swept into a graceful cathedral train. The bodice and long fitted sleeves were made entirely of lace and the bateau neckline was scalloped and outlined with seed pearls. The headpiece was a lace pillbox heavily encrusted with pearls and to which the fingertip length silk illusion veil was attached. The bride carried a white satin muff with an exquisite single white orchid from which fell several graceful sprays of lilies of the valley in cascade effect.

Miss Janel Egloff was her sister's Maid of Honor, and bridesmaids included, the Misses Mildred and Ann Logan, sisters of the bridegroom, Pass Christian; Miss Eloise Black, Greenville, Ala.; Miss Mary Staehle Bay St. Louis and Miss Frances Winstead, Gulfport, cousin of the bride; Miss Marian Egloff, an other sister was Junior Bridesmaid.

They wore charming frocks of light forest green taffeta made with bouffant waltz length skirts and with fitted bodices featuring deep V front and back necklines. From the waist large bows with attached drapes of darker green Italian velvet fell gracefully. Headbands of taffeta and velvet leaves and satin slippers matching the gowns in color completed the costumes. The attendants carried muffs of green velvet to which were attached bronze and green cymbidium orchids.

Attendants to the bridegroom all wore morning dress and included as best man Charles Logan, brother of the bride groom with William Logan, Jr., Gene Tarzetti, Delisle, Miss; Gordon Mills, Aroundville, La.; Robert Parker, Pass Christian and Leonard Benvenuti, Bay St. Louis groomsmen. Ushers included Hartwell Gex and Jesse Albreast, Bay St. Louis and Keith Hardie, New Orleans, and Karl Pollingue, Port Barrie, La., the two latter brothers-in-law of the bridegroom.

Flower girls were nieces of the bridegroom and wore floor length dresses in the same color and design as the bridesmaids. They were Byrne Hardie, New Orleans and Patricia Pollingue Port Barrie, La.

Wedding music was played by Prof. Hemmersbach and during the ceremony Conrad Mauffray sang several selections including the Panis Angelicus and "Oh Lord, I Am Not Worthy."

Immediately following the church service a reception was held at the Reed Hotel in Bay St. Louis with the parents of the bride and bridegroom assisting the bridal party in receiving.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Egloff selected a mink topped lace and chiffon sheath worn with a mink colored velvet hat and dark brown accessories and a green orchid corsage.

Mrs. Logan chose a Dior Blue Pearl de sois dress and hat with midnight blue accessories and a corsage of pink orchids. The bride's table was laid with an imported heirloom cloth on embroidered lace and linen centered with a four-tiered pedestal wedding cake. Lilies of the valley encircled the cake with white tapers placed in silver candelabra flanked either end of the table. Mrs. C. D. Winstead, aunt of the bride, cut the cake.

The bride's register was handled by Miss Jeri Martin and Miss Brenda Assenheimer, New Orleans, Margaret Reyer, Karer Kergosien, Ina Piazza, Pat Chapman and Katherine Benigno assisted in serving punch and cake. The young couple left on a wedding trip by motor with Florida their proposed destination. Upon their return the bridegroom will resume his studies at Miss. Southern College where he is enrolled.

For traveling the bride wore a turquoise blue tweed suit with black silk cotton trim, turquoise velvet hat and black accessories. She pinned the orchid from her muff at her shoulder.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph Academy, Bay St. Louis, and attended Pearl River Junior College, Poplarville, Miss. The bridegroom was graduated at St. Stanislaus, served in the Armed Forces and is currently resuming studies at Mississippi Southern.
